

MedPro Rx's Nancy McFarlane Wins Stevie Award
Local Specialty Pharmacy President Wins Award For Best Entrepreneur For Women In Business

RALEIGH, N.C. – MedPro Rx, Inc. (<http://www.medprorx.com>), a provider of specialty pharmacy services to clients with chronic illnesses who need clotting factor, IVIg and other medication, has announced that President Nancy McFarlane won the Stevie Award for Best Entrepreneur – Service Businesses - Up to 100 Employees in the Stevie Awards for Women in Business.

As president of MedPro Rx, McFarlane has led the pharmacy to multimillion-dollar sales revenues over the past nine years. She implemented a vision to create a pharmacy that would not only coordinate pharmaceutical care with existing community resources, but also serve as an advocate for the bleeding disorder community. MedPro Rx has several community outreach programs, including its “Education is Power” scholarship program.

The Stevie Awards for Women in Business honor women executives, entrepreneurs, and the companies they run – worldwide. The awards are one of four Stevie Awards programs, which have been hailed as the world’s premier business awards. More than 1,300 entries – a record for the competition – were submitted this year for consideration in 75 categories, including Best Executive, Best Entrepreneur, Women Helping Women, and Communications Campaign of the Year

QUOTES:

“Women entrepreneurs and executives continue to innovate, excel and impress,” said Michael Gallagher, president of the Stevie Awards. “Regardless of general economic conditions, the achievements of women-owned and -run organizations around the world remain high, and are reflected in this year’s honorees.”
